ORCA is accepting submissions of data-driven maps and graphs that visualise the rise of China from scholars and young researchers interested in China.

1. The topic of the visualisation should be focused on China or a China-related issue. Please submit the visualisation as a PNG image format.
2. The word length explaining the graph/map should be between 100-200 words detailing the visualisation. Any missing data or anomalies should be mentioned clearly.
3. The visualisation should mention the source in a clear and legible manner.
4. The ideal dimensions for the visualisation are 1200x800 pixels.
4. If you have a finished visualisation that you are confident fits our requirements, share it with us at writetous.orca@gmail.com.
6. While at present we are seeking to commission paid pieces only from senior scholars, if your piece performs well, we may just commission one from you the next time!
7. We would also want you to share extensively the visualisations we publish, follow our Twitter platform and keep tabs on our website to read and review.
8. Plagiarism is strictly not-allowed; each submission will be thoroughly checked for the same.
9. Visualisations on China's domestic politics are most welcome with proper fact-checking.
10. When sharing your complete visualisation, please share a short biography and a formal picture of yourself along with it.
